"Come to my house," [1] says the Fox, "the sky is not falling there."

"Very well!" [2] says the Grey Hen.

So the Grey Hen, the Duck, the Goose, and the Fox walk and walk. By and by they come to the Fox's house. [3]

"This is my house," [4] says the Fox. "Come in, please." [5]

They all go into the Fox's house, but they never come out again. [6]

---

there [ðɛə] — там, туда all [ɔ:l] — все; весь, вся, всё

[1] Come [kʌm] to my 'house — Идите ко мне (в мой дом).
[2] Very well! — Хорошо!
[3] the Fox's ['fɔksɪz] house — дом лисы.
[4] 'This [ðɪs] is my 'house — Вот мой дом.
[5] Come 'in, please — Входите, пожалуйста.
[6] but they never ['nevə] come out again — но из него (из дома) они уже (никогда) не вышли.

The Grey Cat and the Black Cat

One day the Grey Cat says to the Black Cat, "We have nothing for dinner." [1]

"Let us go to the market and buy some meat," [2] says the Black Cat. "Please help me to carry the basket."

"Very well!" [3] says the Grey Cat.

So they go to the market and buy some meat.

On the way home [4] they see a Fox.

The Black Cat runs away. [5] The Grey Cat goes on [6] with the basket. Soon she meets the Fox.

The Grey Cat puts down [7] the basket and runs away.

---

market ['mɑ:kɪt] — рынок basket ['bɑ:skɪt] — корзина

[1] We have nothing [hæv 'nʌθɪŋ] for dinner — У нас ничего нет на обед.
[2] Let us ... 'buy [baɪ] some [sʌm] 'meat — Давай ... купим мяса.
[3] Very well! — Хорошо!
[4] On the way home — По дороге домой.
[5] ... runs away [ə'weɪ] — убегает.
[6] ... goes on ['gouz 'ɔn] — продолжает идти.
[7] ... puts down ['puts 'daun] — здесь: ставит (на землю).